

KAMEA HADAR

Kamea Hadar grew up with multicultural influences from his Japanese/Korean mother and Israeli father. He began studying drawing and painting from a young age, taking classes at the Honolulu Art Academy and the University of Hawaii. Growing up, he spent periods living, studying and creating at the Sorbonne in Paris, the University of St. Louis in Madrid and the University of Tel Aviv, Israel. He currently resides in Honolulu and is the youngest board member of the Hawaii Arts Alliance (a member of the National Kennedy Center Alliance for Arts Education Network), Co-lead Director of POW! WOW! Worldwide and Designer/Artistic Director of Utopium, home of POW! WOW! Hawaii. Although Kamea's work is rooted in traditional portraiture, it has evolved off of the canvas to large-scale murals and installations that can be found in cities around the world.
